

TechniGraphics Joins AIA

AIA has welcomed TechniGraphics as a new member considered “specialists in advanced engineering, precision machining, and logistics and support”.

In their monthly newsletter TechniGraphics was mentioned as one of the newest additions to their association.

The article read as follows:

“TechniGraphics, Inc.

TechniGraphics, Inc., is a multinational enterprise proficient in obtaining and converting geospatial, engineering and program data to enhance the products and methods of its clients.

Headquartered in Wooster, Ohio, the company is a leader in engineering services and solutions and geospatial information systems services. For more information, visit www.tgstech.com.”

AIA Source:
trish.ward@aia-aerospace.org